Assistant Professor - Cybersecurity

Job Description

Niagara University's Department of Cybersecurity and Operations invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to commence in the fall 2021 semester.

Job Requirements

The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. in Information Security or a closely related field completed at the time of appointment. We welcome candidates with experience in cybersecurity with a preference given to individuals with a background in cryptography and software security.

Evidence of scholarship, excellence in teaching, and grant development is preferred. Niagara University has a main campus in Lewiston, NY, USA, and a site in Vaughan, Ontario, Canada. Primary responsibilities for this position will be in Vaughan, Canada.

The successful candidate will be required to certify that he or she is authorized to work in the United States of America as well as Canada, and will be required to provide timely documentation of identity and employment eligibility.

As a tenure-track faculty member, the hired candidate will be required to teach three courses in each of the fall and spring semesters, publish impactful scholarly research and participate in service (committees, advisement, etc.) to the department, college, and university.

Attendance at periodic meetings and holding regular office hours will also be expected. The courses assigned will be primarily at the graduate-level, though they may include other areas as department needs dictate as well as a mix of traditional (face-to-face) and online formats. This position is subject to budgetary and administrative approval the new.

About the Institution

Niagara University was founded in 1856 by the Catholic Vincentian Fathers, whose mission emphasizes practical training and excellence in the service of society.

NU's traditional stone buildings and leafy green campus sits on Monteaagle Ridge, overlooking the Niagara River Gorge just three miles north of the majestic Niagara Falls. Immediately adjacent to Canada, NU's bi-national culture is built in close proximity to major manufacturing and business centers in Buffalo and Toronto, attracting from both countries significant populations of students and faculty.
